
Jack Lord: "Misunderstood" in Hawaii!

Lord knows JACK LORD has somehow gained the reputation for being a "temperamental" man. It's even been said in print that he's a "difficult" man for other actors to "relate" to. But JACK—who some have rather facetiously accused of taking his last name perhaps too seriously—thinks he knows why this "temperamental" reputation has sprung up from time to time to time . . .

"I've been murdered in print!" MR. LORD told a set-side visitor recently. "I fired several people for incompetence and they were the ones whom certain publications chose to interview—about MY life! What would you expect them to say? It was unfair. I would have liked to have told my side.

"The show has only stayed on because of me—and because my cast and crew works as hard as they can. I demand perfection only after I give it myself. I have been misunderstood!"

Then demand a retraction, MR. LORD. After all, not everybody's as "perfect" as you. Aloha!
